

The Dickens Fellowship

Volume 105 (2009) of The Dickensian

Part 1 (No. 477) Spring 2009

Editorial	3
Notes on Contributors	4
Dickens's Dark Ride: 'Travelling Abroad' to Meet the Heritage JEREMY CLARKE	5
'A Wife in Two Volumes': The 'Something Wanting' in David Copperfield and The Woman in White JEROME MECKIER	14
Realism and Reality in Dickens's Characters: Dickens seen through the Eyes of Dutch Writers JAN LOKIN	21
Macrone, Cruikshank and the Proposed Part-Issue of Sketches by Boz PAUL SCHLICKE	33
The Letters of Charles Dickens: Supplement XI ANGUS EASSON & MARGARET BROWN	36
Letters to the Editor	54
Book Reviews
MICHAEL HOLLINGTON on Jeremy Tambling's Going Astray	56
MALCOLM ANDREWS on Jenny Hartley's history of Urania Cottage	59
LEONÉE ORMOND on Dickens and the Unreal City	60
PAUL SCHLICKE on a study of G. M. W. Reynolds	63
JEAN ELLIOTT on the novel Girl in a Blue Dress	64
Television and Radio Reviews
MALCOLM ANDREWS on BBC TV's adaptation of Little Dorrit	66
DONALD HAWES on BBC Radio's Christmas programmes on Dickens	68
Theatre Reviews
PAUL GRAHAM on Icon Theatre Company's Hard Times	69

TONY WILLIAMS on a Bristolian Christmas Carol	70
Fellowship Notes and News	72
When Found Fellowship News, Diary and Branch Lines
Friends of the Museum Obituaries
Part 2 (No. 478) Summer 2009
Editorial	99
Notes on Contributors	100
Artificial Respiration in Our Mutual Friend DAVID McALLISTER	101
Eugene Wrayburn, or The Unbearable Lightness of Being in Dickens MARIE-AMÉLIE COSTE	109
The Countess Vera Sergeevna Tolstaya's Russian Language Adaptation of Great Expectations IRINA GREDINA & PHILIP V. ALLINGHAM	122
The Letters of Charles Dickens: Supplement XII ANGUS EASSON & MARGARET BROWN	135
Letter to the Editor	154
Book Reviews
MICHAEL HOLLINGTON on Catherine Water's study of Household Words	155
JEREMY TAMBLING on teaching Bleak House	157
CLAIRE WOOD on Dickens Studies Annual 39	158
PAUL GRAHAM on Mr Dick	160
Brief Notices	162
CD Review
TORU SASAKI on the unabridged Little Dorrit	165
Fellowship Notes and News	167
When Found Fellowship News, Diary and Branch Lines
Plans for the Dickens Bicentenary Friends of the Museum
Obituaries

Part 3 (No. 479) Winter 2009

From the New President	195
Notes on Contributors	196
John Dickens's Birth Announcements and Charles Dickens's Sisters JOHN BOWEN	197
The Topicality of Pickwick Papers DAVID PARKER	202
The Significance of Fagin's Jewishness ROBERT D. BUTTERWORTH	213
The Letters of Charles Dickens: Supplement XIII ANGUS EASSON & MARGARET BROWN	225
Letter to the Editor	240
Book Reviews
MICHAEL SLATER on Rosemary Bodenheimer's Knowing Dickens	242
DOMINIC RAINSFORD on a Homage to Sylvère Monod	244
LOUIS JAMES on Prisons and Scaffolds	246
ANITA FERNANDEZ YOUNG on Dickensian Themes in Two New Novels	248
Film Review
JOAN DICKS on Disney's Christmas Carol	250
Conference Reviews
VALERIE PURTON on Birkbeck's 'Dickens and Science' Day	252
CATHERINE ROBSON on the 'Uneasy Pleasures' Conference at Jerusalem	254
TONY WILLIAMS on Nottingham's 'Dickens and Tourism' Conference	256
Fellowship Notes and News	258
When Found Fellowship News, Diary and Branch Lines
Cleveland Conference Report Friends of the Museum
Obituaries

Notes on Contributors

PHILIP V. ALLINGHAM is Associate Professor at the Faculty of Education, Lakehead University, Ontario. He has published studies of Dickens's novellas and weekly serialised novels

JOHN BOWEN is Professor of Nineteenth-Century Literature at the University of York. His publications include Other Dickens: Pickwick to Chuzzlewit (Oxford University Press, 2000) and (co-edited with Robert L. Patten) Palgrave Advances in Charles Dickens Studies (2005).

ROBERT D. BUTTERWORTH is a tutor working in higher education in the North West. In addition to writing a number of articles on Dickens, he has published on Anne Brontë, Thomas Hood and George Gissing.

JEREMY CLARK works as an education officer for Medway Council and is based at the Guildhall Museum, in Rochester. His recently completed PhD examined Dickens and his readers in the light of contemporary notions of heritage and collective memory.

MARIE-AMÉLIE COSTE is teaching in higher education in Paris. Her doctoral thesis was on 'Being and Appearing in Dickens's novels, and she has written a number of articles on Dickens.

JEAN ELLIOTT teaches part-time on The University of Delaware's London Programme. She is a Dickens scholar and also a professional actress, and under the stage name Ellie Dickens wrote and performed a one-woman play, My Dearest Kate (the life of Mrs Charles Dickens).

PAUL GRAHAM is a member of Central Branch of the Dickens Fellowship and a frequent contributor to The Dickensian.

IRINA GREDINA is a member of the Translation Institute of International Education and Language Communication in Tomsk Polytechnic University. She has written on the reception of Dickens's work in Russia, and published on comparative and Victorian literature

MICHAEL HOLLINGTON is a retired Professor of English who held a chair in Sydney until 2002 and another in Toulouse until 2007. He is currently editing books on Dickens and Italy and on the Reception of Dickens in Europe.

LOUIS JAMES is Emeritus Professor of English at the University of Kent. His pioneering book on Victorian popular culture, Fiction for the Working Man, was published in 1963. His recent publications include The Victorian Novel (Blackwell, 2006) and a jointly-edited collection of essays, G.W.M Reynolds: Nineteenth-Century Fiction, Politics and the Press (Ashgate, 2008)

JAN LOKIN is Professor of Roman Law at Groningen University and author of a number of books on Roman and Byzantine Law. He is a member of the Royal Academy of Arts and Sciences, a past President of the Dickens Fellowship and of the Fellowship's Haarlem Branch.

DAVID McALLISTER is a Teaching Fellow in the School of English and Related Literatures at the University of York

JEROME MECKIER, Professor of English Emeritus at the University of Kentucky, has published widely on nineteenth- and twentieth-century British and American literature. His most recent book on Dickens was Dickens's Great Expectations: Misnar's Pavilion versus Cinderella.

LEONÉE ORMOND is Professor Emerita of Victorian Studies at King's College, London, and President of the Dickens Fellowship. She has published books and articles on a range of Victorian subjects and has just completed a book on the Punch cartoonist, Linley Sambourne.

DAVID PARKER is an Honorary Research Fellow at Kingston University, and former Curator of the Charles Dickens Museum. Christmas and Charles Dickens (AMS Press, 2005) is his most recent book. He is currently working on A Companion to The Pickwick Papers.

DOMINIC RAINSFORD is Professor of Literatures in English at Aarhus University, Denmark. His publications include Authorship, Ethics and the Reader: Blake, Dickens, Joyce (1997) and Literature, Identity and the English Channel (2002).

CATHERINE ROBSON is Associate Professor of English at the University of California. She is author of Men in Wonderland: The Lost Girlhood of the Victorian Gentleman (Princeton UP, 2001) and is currently completing a study of the memorised poem in British and American public education.

TORU SASAKI is Professor of English at Kyoto University, and Vice-President of the Japan Branch of the Dickens Fellowship. His recent publications include an Introduction for the Wordsworth edition of G. K. Chesterton's Charles Dickens

PAUL SCHLICKE, recently retired from the University of Aberdeen, is past President of the Dickens Fellowship and past chairman of the trustees of the Charles Dickens Museum. He was general editor of The Oxford Reader's Companion to Dickens and is currently editing the Clarendon edition of Sketches by Boz.

JEREMY TAMBLING is Professor of Literature at Manchester University. He was editor of the Macmillan New Casebooks volume on Bleak House. His most recent book, Going Astray: Dickens and London, was published earlier this year.

CLAIRE WOOD is currently studying for a PhD at the University of York, which examines death as a form of commodity in Dickens's work.

ANITA FERNANDEZ YOUNG lectures and researches in Tourism Management at Nottingham University Business School. She is also Secretary of the Alliance of Literary Societies.
